IMPORT TRADE CONTROL.

New Delhi, the 5th August 1952.

Public Notice.

Sub:—Import of photographic chemicals and other articles under licences granted for photo goods falling under Serial No. 303 and 305, Part IV and chemicals falling under Serial No. 22 to 31, Part V.

No. 84-I.T.C. (P.N.)—52. It has been represented that while the import quota for photographic sensitised material has been fairly liberal during January-June 1952, photographic chemicals can only be imported to a relatively smaller extent because they are covered by the general quota for chemicals falling under Serial Nos. 22 to 31, Part V of the Import Trade Control Schedule.

2. It has therefore been decided that firms having past imports of both photographic sensitised material and photographic chemicals can apply for permission to utilise a portion of their January-June 1952 licences for photographic materials (whether General or Soft Currency) for the import of photographic chemicals from Soft Currency sources only. All importers in India who have import licences for both these articles in hand and who wish to take advantage of this are requested to apply immediately to the Joint Chief Controller of Imports, Bombay, (whether or not the licences were issued by him). They should enclose their import licences for January-June 1952, for photographic goods and materials (Serial Nos. 303 and 305, Part IV) and chemicals (Serial Nos. 22 to 31, Part V) with a statement indicating the value for which they wish to utilise the former for the import of photographic chemicals. A list of chemicals [which is not in the prohibited category vide Annexure B to Appendix B (ii) of the Red Book for January-June 1952], which the firm wishes to import should also be enclosed. The decision of the Joint Chief Controller of Imports as regards the extent to which this permission should be given will be final.

3. It has further been decided that not more than 2½ (Two and a half) per cent of the face value of the General or Soft Currency licences for photographic goods and accessories falling under Serial Nos. 303 and 305 of Part IV will be valid for the import of the following accessories from the area concerned, regardless of their classification:—

- (1) Dark Room Safe Light Filters,
- (2) Dry Mounting Irons,
- (3) Dry Mounting Tissues,
- (4) Tank, Developing (either rubber, porcelain, earthenware, plastic or stainless steel).
- (5) Flash attachment for cameras,

It is not necessary to present the licences to any licensing authority for endorsement of this concession.

New Delhi, the 19th August 1952.

Public Notice.

Subject:—Validity of Licences.

No. 90 I.T.C. (P.N.)—52. At present the period of validity of licences is reckoned from the date of their issue with the result that there is a tendency on the part of importers to delay the filing of their applications till the last date. In order to avoid the administrative dislocation which this causes and also to obviate the hardship to those importers who for one reason or another fail to put in their application before the last date, the following decisions have been taken as an experimental measure for the period July—December 1952:—

(a) For items included in Part V of the Import Trade Control Schedule, the period of validity of licences for which has been shown as six months, there will be no last date for applying.

(b) All established importers' licences for these items will expire on the last date of March 1953, regardless of the date of issue of the licence.

(c) The provisions of (a) and (b) above will not affect in any way the position regarding:—

(i) items included in Parts I to IV of the Import Trade Control Schedule;

(ii) items included in Part V of the Import Trade Control Schedule for which the normal validity of licences is more than six months;

(iii) actual user licences.

2. If the arrangement is found to be satisfactory from the point of view of administration and of the trade, it is proposed to extend it to other items in January—June 1953 period.

Public Notice.

Subject:—Licensing of Art-Silk Yarn for July—December 1952, from Soft Currency Area.

No. 91 I.T.C. (P.N.)—52. In the Policy Book for the licensing period July—December 1952, it was notified that the licensing policy for Art-Silk Yarn and thread falling under S. No. 177 of Part IV of the I.T.C. Schedule will be announced later.

2. The Government of India have now reviewed the position and consider that the outstanding licences amounting to about Rs. 9 crores in value should normally be adequate for the current licensing period. In order, however, to prevent any speculative rise in prices and to check any attempt to hoard, they have decided that Soft Currency Licences for the import of Artificial Silk Yarn should be granted during July—December 1952 to the following categories of applicants only:—

(a) The three Art Silk Mills Associations in Bombay, Amritsar and Calcutta (Member-mills should not apply separately for licences).

(b) Mills, manufacturing artificial silk cloth, which are not the members of the above associations.

3. Applications should be made in the form and manner prescribed in the Hand Book of Rules and Procedure 1952, as modified by the policy for the period July—December 1952, seems to reach the office of the Chief Controller of Imports, New Delhi, not later than the 22nd September 1952.

4. No licences will be granted for import of thread but applicants wanting twisted yarn should indicate the value of twisted yarn desired to be imported. Each licence will bear endorsement showing the extent to which the licence will be valid for the import of twisted yarn.

5. Applicants of category (a) should enclose with their applications a certificate from the Director of Industries of the State concerned or the Textile Commissioner showing the number of looms contained in the mills of their constituent members in addition to the usual certificate of manufacturing capacity and actual requirements. The value of confirmed licences already held by the constituent members for import of Art-Silk Yarn should also be indicated separately for each member. A Treasury Receipt should accompany the application equal in value to the total of the application fees which the members would have been required to pay if they had applied separately for the amounts allocated to them. The Income-tax Registration or Exemption number allotted to each member-mill should also be quoted by the applicants and these will be verified before the licence is issued to the Association concerned. Where a member mill does not hold a valid Income-tax Verification Certificate Registration or Exemption No. the amount of the licence admissible to it will be subtracted from the licence admissible to the Association on behalf of all its members. It will be a condition of licences granted to the applicants in category (a) that they will distributed the licences pro rata to their loomage in favour of the member-mills in respect of whom the licence, has been given.

6. Applicants of category (b) should enclose with their applications a certificate issued by the State Director of Industries or the Textile Commissioner indicating the number of looms in the mills in addition to the usual certificate of manufacturing capacity and actual requirements. The value of confirmed licences of Art-Silk Yarn already held against which import is still to be made should be given.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

PRESS INFORMATION BUREAU

Press Communiqué.

PASSPORT SYSTEM FOR INDO-PAKISTAN TRAVEL TO BE IN FORCE FROM OCTOBER 15.

Government of India to Apply Rules with Maximum Possible Liberality.

In April 1952, the Government of Pakistan decided that free movement between India and East Pakistan provided in the Indo-Pakistan Agreement of 1950 and the Permit System which is at present in force between India and West Pakistan should be discontinued and that traffic between the two countries should be regulated by a passport cum visa system. The Pakistan Government were unable to accept the suggestion of the Government of India that, in the interest of the peoples of both the countries, the existing system which ensures relatively free traffic between Pakistan and India should not be disturbed. Discussions then took place between the two Governments on the main features of the new system proposed by the Pakistan Government. Agreement has now been reached on the major points. The Government of Pakistan have already announced the passport rules which they propose to bring into force. The Government of India have also prepared a set of rules for regulating the entry of Pakistan nationals into India and the issue of passports to Indian nationals for travel to Pakistan. These rules are being published for the information of the general public.

The Government of India intend to apply the rules with the maximum possible liberality. They also propose to review the working of the system from time to time to ensure that difficulties and legitimate complaints brought to their notice are removed as far as possible.

The passport scheme comes into force from October 15, 1952. Up to that date permits for visits to India will continue to be issued at Indian Missions in Karachi and Lahore, while residents of East Pakistan will be able to enter or leave India freely.

Liberal facilities for Pakistan nationals to visit India have been provided in the Rules. Special facilities have been provided to all classes having special needs, such as border residents, persons having near relations in India, transport workers, businessmen, officials, employees of diplomatic missions, seamen and persons in transit through India. These liberal facilities are being provided to Pakistan nationals on the understanding that similar liberal facilities will be available to Indian nationals visiting Pakistan.

The scheme provided that in addition to Indian Passports in international form which will be valid, special passports valid for travel to Pakistan only, will be issued at a cost of Rs. 3 as compared with the fee of Rs. 10 for international form passports. For the convenience of Indian nationals, the power to issue India-Pakistan passports is being delegated to District Magistrates in areas where the number of applicants is expected to be large, namely Tripura, Assam, West Bengal and the Purnea District of Bihar. Elsewhere in India, India-Pakistan passports will be issued by the State Government concerned, but special arrangements have been made in the Punjab (1) for issue of such passports to pilgrims, sports teams, goodwill missions and Government officials. Special provisions have also been made for recovered abducted persons, guides, witnesses and relatives in connection with the recovery of abducted persons, migrants to India, and Indian nationals already in Pakistan when the scheme comes into force.

The Government of India intend that as far as possible there should be no interruption of movement or avoidable hardship when the new system comes into force. With this object forms of application for India-Pakistan passports are being urgently distributed to all passport issuing authorities in India who will make arrangements to have them made available to the public as widely as possible. The places where forms will be available in each State will be notified by that State. It is hoped that these application forms will be available to the public from the 8th September, 1952 and Passport Issuing Authorities will entertain applications for India-Pakistan Passports with effect from the 11th September 1952. Similarly forms of application for visas to visit India are expected to be available at Diplomatic Missions in Pakistan from the 11th September and those Missions will entertain such applications from the 15th September, 1952. Arrangements are being made to post adequate staff at the Indian Missions in Pakistan, particularly Dacca, to ensure quick disposal of applications and early issue of visas. All persons who expect to travel to or from Pakistan in the second fortnight of October are advised to obtain the necessary passports and visas by the 15th of that month.

PASSPORT SYSTEM TO REGULATE THE ENTRY OF PAKISTAN NATIONALS INTO INDIA AND FACILITIES FOR INDIAN NATIONALS TO VISIT PAKISTAN.

PART I.—Regulation of Entry into and Stay in India of Pakistan Nationals.

With effect from midnight of 14—15th October, 1952 Pakistan nationals visiting India will be required, subject to the exceptions mentioned below, to be in possession of a valid Pakistan passport, duly visaed by an Indian Diplomatic Mission abroad, or by any official in India authorised by the Government of India to issue visas:

(2) Pakistan nationals domiciled in East Pakistan, who are in India on the 15th October 1952 without any permits, will also be permitted to remain in India, without passports and visas, until the 14th January 1953.

(3) Pakistan nationals in India on the 15th October 1952, who do not wish to or are unable to return to Pakistan by the 14th January 1953, must, within that period, (a) obtain a Pakistan passport and an Indian visa valid for further stay and (b) get themselves registered with the Commissioner of Police or the Superintendent of Police of the town or district in which they are resident.

3. Categories of Visas.

The holder of a valid Pakistan Passport may be issued one or more of the following types of visas :—

(3) Where the applicant for an Indian visa holds a Pakistan passport in international form valid for countries other than India the wife may be included in the passport of the husband. (4) All visas will be valid for travel to and stay in the place or places or the area specified in the visa.

(5) Except for holders of Category 'A' visas who need not pass through a check-post, holders of all other categories of visas must enter and leave only through an established check-post. Except where the visa specifically prescribes the route of entry, visa holder may enter through any check-post of his choice from among those which will be separately notified later.

(6) An application for a visa may be submitted to the visa issuing authority by post or through an agent, and personal attendance of the applicant is not necessary.

(7) Visas will be issued liberally in accordance with the above provisions, but in any particular case the visa issuing authority may decline to grant a visa or a visa of a particular category or decline to include a particular place or places in the visa or may grant it under special conditions, without assigning any reason. Every endeavour will be made to keep such cases to the minimum.

(8) The application for a visa of Category 'A' and 'D' (Non-Diplomatic) must be submitted in duplicate and for all other categories in triplicate, except for Visas 'D' (Official) and 'D' (Diplomatic) for which a single copy of the application will suffice.

(9) Except in regard to applications for visas of category 'D' (Official) and 'D' (Diplomatic), the applications for visas must be accompanied by the following number of passport size photographs of the applicant :—

- | | |
|---|---|
| (i) Category 'A' and 'D' (Non-Diplomatic) | 2 |
| (ii) All other visas | 3 |

(10) A pardanashin lady will not be required to submit any photographs of herself, but she must instead nominate a male attendant who will accompany her during the journey or journeys and who should first obtain the requisite visa on his own passport. The pardanashin lady should then apply for a visa, enclosing the requisite number of copies of the passport-size photograph of the male attendant together with the latter's passport.

(11) A State Government in India may, on an application received before expiry of the existing visa of a Pakistan national, extend the period of stay permitted under that visa, or grant an extension of the visa subject to maximum of one year from the date of expiry of the original visa.

(12) The fee for issue or extension of a visa will in all cases be Re. 1 (Pak) for each year or a portion of the year for which the visa is made valid or extended.

5. Exemption in cases of through transit.—

(1) A Pakistan national will not be required to take a transit visa if he is in "through transit" [as defined in (2) below] across Indian territory, provided that he is in possession of a valid national passport and also of a through ticket or an irrevocable voucher for the entire journey commencing from and ending at places outside India.

(2) "Through transit" means a journey by an aircraft or train or steamer or ship, which commences the journey at a place outside India and which after crossing Indian territory goes on to and ends its journey at a place also outside India. The through character of the journey is not affected if—

(a) in the case of a journey by aircraft, there is a change from an aircraft on one international line to an aircraft on other international line;

(b) in the case of a journey by rail there is a change, in the course of the journey, from one gauge to another provided that in either of the above two cases the interval between arrival and departure at the station of interchange does not exceed 24 hours.

(3) A journey does not constitute "through transit" if in the course of the journey the traveller has to change from one mode of transport to another, viz., from road to railway, from railway to aircraft from ship to aircraft and so on, or where the scheduled interval between connecting links at the place of interchange exceeds 24 hours. In such cases a transit visa must be taken before entry into India.

(4) A Pakistan national who is exempt from the necessity of having an India visa under (1) above must get his passport stamped and dated at the points of entry into and exit from India.

6. Exemption in case of enforced halts.—

(1) When a Pakistan national is in the course of "through transit" through India and the steamer, train, aircraft or ship by which he is travelling is immobilised for any period through causes beyond the control of the traveller, the period of immobilisation of the means of transport will be treated as a period of "enforced halt."

(2) When a Pakistan national is travelling as a passenger in a ship which touches or makes a scheduled or unscheduled halt at a port in India, the period during which the ship is to remain at the Indian port will be treated as a period of "enforced halt."

(3) In a case of enforced halt, provided that he is in possession of a valid national passport, a Pakistan national will be permitted to land or stay in India during the period of the enforced halt on the strength of a "landing card" which will be issued to him, on deposit of his passport, by the nearest Indian Police authorities whom he must approach for the purpose. The stay in India will be subject to the conditions laid down in the landing card. The passport will be returned to the holder on surrender of the landing card at the time of his departure.

7. Pakistani seamen.—

(1) Pakistani seamen holding valid Continuous Discharge Certificates (Nullies) bearing a photograph and other prescribed particulars will be accorded the following facilities:—

(a) A Pakistani seaman visiting a port in India as a member of the crew of the ship which brings him need not hold a passport or a visa. He will be issued a Landing Permit on deposit of his C.D.C. (Nullies), if he wishes to land;

(b) A Pakistani seaman who arrives at a port in India as a member of the crew of the ship which brings him and who is discharged at that port, will not require a passport or a visa. He will be issued a Landing Permit for a specified period and will also be allowed to leave for Pakistan by sea or by air.

(c) A Pakistani seaman coming to India to seek employment as a Seaman on Indian Articles will require a visa, but, for purposes of the grant of the visa, the Continuous Discharge Certificate (Nullie) will be treated as the equivalent of a Passport. The visa will be issued on a separate Seaman's Visa Book which will be issued to the applicant for being kept with his C.D.C.

(d) Pakistani Seamen who have been serving under Indian Articles and who are discharged at the end of a voyage at Bombay or Calcutta will be issued visas (on separate Seaman's Visa Book) for journeys to their homes by land/sea/air and if so desired, for re-entry into India in search of re-employment.

(e) Where a Pakistani seaman signed on Pakistan Articles desires to come to India, otherwise than as crew of a ship for which he has signed and proposes to join that ship at an Indian Port, he will be required to hold an Indian visa. This will be issued on the Nullie only in cases in which the Director-General of Shipping, Government of India, has given special permission for his joining his ship at an Indian port without complying with the requirement of the Indian Law.

(f) In all other cases, a Pakistani seaman must be in a possession of a valid passport duly visaed for India at the time of entry into India.

8. Personnel and civilian employees of Pakistan Defence Services Organization and their families.—

None of the foregoing provisions with regard to the issue of visas to Pakistan nationals will be applicable to Pakistani or foreign personnel and civilian employees of the Defence Services Organisations of Pakistan, with regard to whom separate arrangements will be entered into and notified by the Ministries of Defence of the two countries.

Part II. Facilities for Indian Nationals to Visit Pakistan.

These forms will be supplied free of cost to bona fide applicants.

In cases in which the application and fee are tendered personally a receipt for the same should be obtained from the office of the passport issuing authority.

5. Issue of Pakistan Visas to Indian nationals.—

(1) Under the Government of Pakistan's Passport Scheme, Indian nationals will be eligible to visas of Categories 'A' to 'F' and Transit Visas similar to those described in Part I above. (ii) A Government servant may retire from service any time after completing 30 years' qualifying service provided that he shall give in this behalf a notice in writing to the appropriate authority, at least three months before the date on which he wishes to retire. Government may, in special cases, require any Government servant to retire any time after he has completed 25 years' qualifying service or on attaining 50 years age if such retirement is considered necessary in the public interest provided that the appropriate authority shall give in this behalf a notice in writing to the Government servant at least three months before the date on which he is required to retire.

(iii) A Government servant who retires or is retired, only in the manner indicated in sub-rule (ii), shall be granted a retiring pension not exceeding such proportion of average emoluments and subject to such maximum limit as are specified in Schedule A.

formally sanction the gratuity. If the Government servant dies before receiving payment, the amount will be payable to his legal heirs and the payment will be made only to the person who produces the legal authority.

(b) When the gratuity is payable to the nominee or legal heir of the Government servant who dies while in service.—If the Government servant has executed a nomination in the prescribed form and the nomination subsists, the Head of the Office/Department should, on receipt of the death report of the Government servant, draw up a statement of his services in the second page of Form 'F'. If there is no nomination, or if the nomination does not subsist, the gratuity is payable only to the legal heirs of the deceased and in such cases the Head of the Office/Department need draw up the statement of services only on receipt of an application for the gratuity from or on behalf of the legal heirs supported by legal authority. The statement of services along with the provisional recommendations of the competent authority as to the amount of gratuity proposed to be paid (and the name and address of the person or persons to whom it is to be paid together with the nomination form, in the case of a non-gazetted Government servant) shall be forwarded to the Accountant-General for verification. After obtaining the certificate of verification (and ascertaining from the Accountant-General the details as to the nominee or nominees if the deceased is a gazetted Government servant) formal sanction to the payment of the gratuity may be accorded by the competent authority. The sanction should indicate the name, address and the relationship to the deceased Government servant of the person or persons to whom the gratuity is to be paid and the amount to be paid to each of them. The Accountant-General will then arrange for the disbursement of the amounts.

(c) When the gratuity is payable under rule 3 (iv).—In such a case the service of the Government servant would have been verified, and in other respects the procedure indicated in paragraph (b) above may be followed.

Family Pension.

(d) Two types of cases may arise in connection with family pension, namely, cases where the pension is payable in accordance with the nomination executed by the Government servant/pensioner and cases where it is payable to the person mentioned in sub-rule (v) of rule 5. Where the pension is payable in the order mentioned in the nomination, on receipt of the death-report of the Government servant/pensioner, the Head of the Office/Department should direct the nominee to submit an application in Form 'G'. If there is no such nominee, and an application in Form 'G' is received from a person mentioned in sub-rule (v) of rule 5, the Head of the Office/Department may make such enquiries as may be necessary, to ascertain that the pension is not payable to any other person mentioned in the aforesaid sub-rule. If the applicant is a person mentioned in clause (b) of that sub-rule, the Head of the Office/Department should satisfy himself that the applicant was dependent on the Government servant/pensioner for support after making such enquiries as may be necessary. The Head of the Office/Department should then arrange for verification of the Government servant's service in the manner indicated in paragraph (b) above and should determine the amount of family pension. After the Accountant-General has applied the necessary checks and certified as to the admissibility of family pension, the competent authority who will be the same as the authority competent to sanction the pension of the deceased Government servant, may accord formal sanction to the payment of the pension. The sanction should indicate the name of the person to whom the pension is payable and also the period up to which it is payable. On receipt of the sanction, the Accountant-General will issue the family pension payment order for the specified period indicating the event, if any, on the happening of which the payment should be stopped. In the matter of identification of the recipient of the family pension, the Treasury Officer will exercise the necessary checks. If the person to whom a family pension has been sanctioned dies or becomes ineligible for the pension before the expiry of the period for which the pension is otherwise admissible, the pension may be re-granted to the next person eligible to receive it for the unexpired portion of that period and the foregoing procedure should be followed in such cases also. If a family pension is payable to a minor and at the time of sanctioning the pension he has a regularly appointed guardian, the pension may be sanctioned as payable through such guardian and in such cases a descriptive roll (in duplicate) of the person who may be authorised to receive payment should accompany the application in Form 'G'.

Anticipatory Payments.

(e) When a Government servant who is entitled to death cum retirement gratuity is likely to retire before the amount of the gratuity can be finally assessed and settled in accordance with the procedure mentioned above, the Accountant-General may sanction the disbursement of not more than three-fourths of the amount of gratuity to which, after the most careful summary investigation that he can make without delay, he believes the Government servant to be entitled to on the basis of permanent service alone. Similar payments of gratuity may also be authorised in the appropriate proportion to the nominees or the legal heirs who produce the usual legal authority, in the event of the death of the Government servant. In all cases the anticipatory payment of death cum retirement gratuity should be made after the recipient has executed a declaration in Form 'H'.

THE REVISED PENSION RULES

1. These rules may be called the "Revised Pension Rules".

SECTION I.—PENSION.

2. (i) The amount of superannuation, retiring, compensation and invalid pension and compensation gratuity will be the appropriate amount set out in Schedule A.

(ii) A Government servant may retire from service any time after completing 30 years' qualifying service provided that he shall give in this behalf a notice in writing to the appropriate authority, at least three months before the date on which he wishes to retire. Government may, in special cases, require any Government servant to retire any time after he has completed 25 years' qualifying service or on attaining 50 years' age if such retirement is considered necessary in the public interest provided that the appropriate authority shall give in this behalf a notice in writing to the Government servant at least three months before the date on which he is required to retire.

(iii) A Government servant who retires or is retired, only in the manner indicated in sub-rule (ii), shall be granted a retiring pension not exceeding such proportion of average emoluments and subject to such maximum limit as are specified in Schedule A.

(iv) No special additional pensions will be granted.

(v) Except when the term 'pension' is used in contradistinction to 'Death cum Retirement Gratuity', 'Pension' includes 'Death cum Retirement gratuity'.

SECTION II.—DEATH cum RETIREMENT GRATUITY.

3. (i) A Government servant who has completed five years' qualifying service may be granted an additional gratuity not exceeding the amount specified in sub-rule (iii), when he retires from service and is eligible for a gratuity or pension under Section I.

(ii) If a Government servant who has completed five years' qualifying service dies while in service, a gratuity not exceeding the amount specified in sub-rule (iii) may be paid to the person or persons on whom the right to receive the gratuity is conferred under rule 4 or, if there is no such person, to the legal heirs of the Government servant.

(iii) The amount of gratuity will be nine-twentieths of the "emoluments" of a Government servant for each completed year of qualifying service subject to a maximum of 15 times the "emoluments". In the event of death of a Government servant while in service, the gratuity will be subject to a minimum of 12 times the emoluments of the Government servant at the time of his death.

Note.—In cases where the qualifying service is less than the prescribed minimum, the deficiency should not be condoned by invoking the provisions of Article 272. In other cases the power conferred under the said Article should be restricted to ensure that where the benefit is given, it is given only to low-paid employees proceeding on invalid or compensation pension.

(iv) If a Government servant who has become eligible for a pension or gratuity under Section I dies within 5 years from the date of retirement, and the sums actually received by him before death on account of such gratuity or pension together with the gratuity granted under sub-rule (i) are less than an amount equal to 12 times his "emoluments", a gratuity equal to the deficiency may be granted to the person or persons specified in sub-rule (ii).

(v) The emoluments for the purpose of this Section will be subject to a maximum of Rs. 800 per mensem and means the emoluments as defined in Article 322, which the Government servant was receiving immediately before retirement (or death), provided that if the emoluments of a Government servant have been reduced during the last three years of his service, otherwise than as a penalty, average emoluments as defined in Article 322 may, at the discretion of the authority which has the power to sanction the gratuity under this Section, be treated as emoluments.

In case the person concerned does not satisfy the requirements of the said sub-rule the pension shall be granted to the person next lower in the order. The provisions of sub-rules (vi) (b), (viii) and (ix) of rule 4 will apply in respect of nominations under this sub-rule.

(vii) (a) A pension awarded under this Section will not be payable to more than one member of a Government servant's family at the same time.

(b) If a pension awarded under this Section ceases to be payable before the expiry of the period mentioned in sub-rule (i) on account of death or marriage or the recipient or other causes, it will be re-granted to the person next lower in the order mentioned in sub-rule (v) or to the person next lower in the order shown in the nomination made under sub-rule (vi), as the case may be, who satisfies the other provisions of this Section.

(viii) A pension sanctioned under this Section will be tenable in addition to any extraordinary pension or gratuity or compensation that may be granted to the members of a Government servant's family under these Regulations.

(ix) As in the case of the grant of an ordinary pension, future good conduct of the recipient is an implied condition of every grant of a pension under this Section. Government reserves to itself the right of withholding or withdrawing such a pension or any part of it if the recipient be convicted of serious crime or be guilty of grave misconduct and Government decision in such matters will be final.

SECTION IV.—QUALIFYING SERVICE.

6. Qualifying service will be calculated as prescribed in Chapter XV of these Regulations.

SECTION V.—AVERAGE EMOLUMENTS.

7. In the case of a Government servant who elects to be governed by these rules "Average Emoluments" means the average emoluments earned by him during his last three years of service. Emoluments for the purpose of this rule will be as defined in Article 322.

The calculation of average emoluments under the definition above is subject to the provisions mentioned in Articles 323 to 325.

SECTION VI.—COMMUTATION OF PENSIONS AND COMPASSIONATE GRATUITY.

8. The provisions under Chapter XXVII of these Regulations in respect of Commutation and Compassionate Gratuity will not be applicable to Government servants governed by these Rules.

SECTION VII.—DATE OF EFFECT AND APPLICATION TO PERSONS WHO ARE ALREADY IN SERVICE.

9. (i) These rules will have effect from the 1st August 1952 and shall apply to all Government servants in superior and inferior service. These rules shall not apply to Government servants either in superior or inferior service who retired prior to 1st August 1952:

Provided that in the case of a Government servant in the superior service who has been holding a permanent pensionable appointment from any day before the first day of April 1952, these rules will not be applicable, if on or before the first day of January 1953, he exercises his option, in the manner hereinafter provided, to continue to be governed by the Articles of these Regulations regarding the grant of pensions.

Explanation.—For the purpose of the proviso to this sub-rule "a person holding a permanent pensionable appointment" includes a person holding substantively or in a provisionally substantive capacity, a permanent and pensionable post; and a person holding a permanent lien or a suspended lien on a permanent and pensionable post.

(ii) The option once exercised will be final. It should be exercised by making a declaration in writing and should be communicated by the Government servant to the Head of his Office if he is a non-gazetted Government servant and to the Accountant-General, Mysore, if he is a gazetted Government servant. The declaration when received from a non-gazetted Government servant should be countersigned by the Head of the Office and pasted in the Service Book of the Government servant concerned. It will be the responsibility of a Government servant opting to continue to be governed by the Articles of these Regulations as a whole, to ensure that the receipt of his declaration is acknowledged by the Accountant-General, Mysore or by the Head of his Office, as the case may be.

(iii) Where a Government servant has died on any day on or after the 1st day of April 1952 and before the 1st day of August 1952, his family may be granted the benefit of these rules, if an application is made for such grant and the applicant repays the amount, if any, received as compassionate gratuity or otherwise granted under these Regulations, or, agrees in writing to the deduction of the amount so received from the amount payable under these rules.

SECTION VIII.—MISCELLANEOUS.

10. (i) No gratuity or pension may be granted under Sections II and III if the Government servant was dismissed or removed for misconduct, insolvency or inefficiency. Compassionate allowances may, however, be granted in accordance with Article 223.

(ii) A gratuity or pension shall be sanctioned under Sections II and III after giving due regard to the provisions of Article 317.

(iii) The provisions of these Regulations which apply to the grant of an ordinary pension will also apply in respect of a gratuity or pension that may be sanctioned under Sections II and III in so far as such provisions are not inconsistent with the provisions of these rules.

(iv) The procedure for application, sanction and payment of death-cum-retirement gratuity and family pension will be as in Schedule B.

11. When a Government servant governed by these Rules is after retirement re-appointed, his pay will be so fixed that the pay plus the pension does not exceed the pay drawn while last in service and the pension to be taken into consideration will be the pension he actually draws or is entitled to draw under these Rules plus the pension equivalent of the gratuity, which he has received or is entitled to receive on retirement. The pension equivalent of the gratuity will be determined on the basis of the table of commutation of pensions in Appendix 'L' the age of the person being taken as the age next birthday after retirement from Government service.

Note.—When a Government servant is re-employed in a post in a lower grade than that from which he retired, he shall be given the minimum of the post in which he is re-employed subject to the maximum specified in this rule.

SCHEDULE B.

(Vide Rule 10.)

DEATH cum RETIREMENT GRATUITY.

(a) When the gratuity is payable to the Government servant on his retirement an application should be made in the form as in Form F.

On receipt of the certificate of the Accountant-General on the third page of the form, the competent authority who will be the same as the authority competent to sanction the pension of the Government servant concerned, may formally sanction the gratuity. If the Government servant dies before receiving payment, the amount will be payable to his legal heirs and the payment will be made only to the person who produces the legal authority.

(b) When the gratuity is payable to the nominee or legal heir of the Government servant who dies while in service.—If the Government servant has executed a nomination in the prescribed form and the nomination subsists, the Head of the Office/Department should, on receipt of the death report of the Government servant, draw up a statement of his services in the second page of Form 'F'. If there is no nomination, or if the nomination does not subsist, the gratuity is payable only to the legal heirs of the deceased and in such cases the Head of the Office/Department need draw up the statement of services only on receipt of an application for the gratuity from or on behalf of the legal heirs supported by legal authority. The statement of services along with the provisional recommendations of the competent authority as to the amount of gratuity proposed to be paid (and the name and address of the person or persons to whom it is to be paid together with the nomination form, in the case of a non-gazetted Government servant) shall be forwarded to the Accountant-General for verification. After obtaining the certificate of verification (and ascertaining from the Accountant-General the details as to the nominee or nominees if the deceased is a gazetted Government servant) formal sanction to the payment of the gratuity may be accorded by the competent authority. The sanction should indicate the name, address and the relationship to the deceased Government servant of the person or persons to whom the gratuity is to be paid and the amount to be paid to each of them. The Accountant-General will then arrange for the disbursement of the amounts.

(c) When the gratuity is payable under rule 3 (iv).—In such a case the service of the Government servant would have been verified, and in other respects the procedure indicated in paragraph (b) above may be followed.

Family Pension.

(d) Two types of cases may arise in connection with family pension, namely, cases where the pension is payable in accordance with the nomination executed by the Government servant/pensioner and cases where it is payable to the person mentioned in sub-rule (v) of rule 5. Where the pension is payable in the order mentioned in the nomination, on receipt of the death-report of the Government servant/pensioner, the Head of the Office/Department should direct the nominee to submit an application in Form 'G'. If there is no such nominee, and an application in Form 'G' is received from a person mentioned in sub-rule (v) of rule 5, the Head of the Office/Department may make such enquiries as may be necessary, to ascertain that the pension is not payable to any other person mentioned in the aforesaid sub-rule. If the applicant is a person mentioned in clause (b) of that sub-rule, the Head of the Office/Department should satisfy himself that the applicant was dependent on the Government servant/pensioner for support after making such enquiries as may be necessary. The Head of the Office/Department should then arrange for verification of the Government servant's service in the manner indicated in paragraph (b) above and should determine the amount of family pension. After the Accountant-General has applied the necessary checks and certified as to the admissibility of family pension, the competent authority who will be the same as the authority competent to sanction the pension of the deceased Government servant, may accord formal sanction to the payment of the pension. The sanction should indicate the name of the person to whom the pension is payable and also the period up to which it is payable. On receipt of the sanction, the Accountant-General will issue the family pension payment order for the specified period indicating the event, if any, on the happening of which the payment should be stopped. In the matter of identification of the recipient of the family pension, the Treasury Officer will exercise the necessary checks. If the person to whom a family pension has been sanctioned dies or becomes ineligible for the pension before the expiry of the period for which the pension is otherwise admissible, the pension may be re-granted to the next person eligible to receive it for the unexpired portion of that period and the foregoing procedure should be followed in such cases also. If a family pension is payable to a minor and at the time of sanctioning the pension he has a regularly appointed guardian, the pension may be sanctioned as payable through such guardian and in such cases a descriptive roll (in duplicate) of the person who may be authorised to receive payment should accompany the application in Form 'G'.

Anticipatory Payments.

(e) When a Government servant who is entitled to death cum retirement gratuity is likely to retire before the amount of the gratuity can be finally assessed and settled in accordance with the procedure mentioned above, the Accountant-General may sanction the disbursement of not more than three-fourths of the amount of gratuity to which, after the most careful summary investigation that he can make without delay, he believes the Government servant to be entitled to on the basis of permanent service alone. Similar payments of gratuity may also be authorised in the appropriate proportion to the nominees or the legal heirs who produce the usual legal authority, in the event of the death of the Government servant. In all cases the anticipatory payment of death cum retirement gratuity should be made after the recipient has executed a declaration in Form 'H'.
